Career choices

Key points to think about:

- Choose something that interest you
- What are your values? (E.g. If you value money and financial success, you'll need a job that pays well.)
- What are your personality traits? (Your personality is also important to consider when deciding on a career. For example, are you an extrovert (someone who enjoys and thrives on talking and being around people) or an introvert (someone who generally prefers a quieter environment and needs some 'alone time' to thrive))
- What skills do you have?
- What are your talents and strengths?
- What education or training do you need?
- Are there jobs available?
- What are your salary needs?
- Where do you want to live?
- What do I enjoy the most at school?
- Are there opportunities for advancement?

The four steps to choosing a career are:

- know yourself
- explore your options
- make a decision
- Take action.
